Conservation Placement 2023

- Cliveden Conservation
- Salary £11,000 (6 month placement)
- Location Taplow

Job description:

This 6 month conservation placement is ideal for students looking to gain valuable work experience at a leading conservation company during or after their time at university.

The role will primarily be focused on the exciting and unique Wren 300 project that Cliveden Conservation are fortunate enough to be partnering on. This will involve administration and event planning for this year's Wren 300 programme of events, of which Cliveden Conservation are putting on a number of conservation workshops at Wren inspired and designed venues.

As well as working on the Wren 300 project, the placement is designed to provide you with an holistic overview of what it is to work in conservation; working across departments and on a broad range of tasks at Cliveden Conservation.

We are looking for students or fresh starters who can take on responsibility on some of our major projects, which will contribute both to our present operations and the intern's future projects and ambitions.

As part of this conservation placement, you will get the chance to take part in activities that will allow you develop your skills and also allow you to obtain valuable employability skills and experience. You will be working across all our departments (Stone, Plaster, Conservation and Decorative Arts), under various project managers.

At the end of the 6 month placement, continued employment within Cliveden Conservation will be considered and encouraged.

The Conservation Placement:

Putting best practice at the heart of everything we do, Cliveden Conservation creates sustainable relationships that value buildings, objects, people and their surroundings. Through research and informed decision making, our professional team deliver the most appropriate conservation interventions for your building or object. Our advice prioritises Conservation Philosophy – and does not compromise quality for cost. We are committed to: Sharing knowledge, Establishing best practice, Pursuing professional development, Protecting the environment.

The internship will be a broad ranging role across all departments and will include administrative tasks, assisting project management as well as hands on, practical conservation work. Both in on-site and deck based environments.

What we are looking for:

Enthusiastic and hard working students and fresh starters currently working towards conservation degrees or vocational qualifications in heritage crafts and skills.
